DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-4, 7, 9-14, 16-18, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chen et al. (6842428).

Regarding claims 1-4, 7, 9-14, 16-18, and 20, Chen discloses a method for allocating communication network resources using adaptive demand prediction, comprising: a first team member (see figure, element 102 and its description); and a second team member (see figure, element 104, and its description), said first team member predicting subsequent communication demand by said second team member in accordance with the mission plan, said second team member predicting subsequent communication demand by said first team member in accordance with the mission plan, said first team member being allocated a bandwidth commensurate with a predicted need of said first team member and a predicted need of said second team member, said second team member being allocated a bandwidth commensurate with a predicted need of said first team member and said second team member (see abstract, figure, elements 112, 114, 122, col.1-3, and its description).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-6, 8, 15, and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
